

* If all testing is normal, consider possibility that family member has alternate bleeding disorder
 Send copy of known familial mutation with sample for testing to be performed